AGRICULTURAL FARMING.

In one of our last issues, and tacked on to the foot of our On 'Change article, we published an interesting letter from an Englishman in the camp who wants to make a start in agricultural farming, but finds no one either disposed to give him the information he requires, or facilitate his beginning in a small way and on his own land.

Our correspondent is the mouthpiece of a class altogether overlooked in this country, and so fully do we appreciate the difficulties which beset a willing, hard-working man in making a start for himself and his family, that we shall ever claim it as a privilege to receive such letters as that published in our last and to which we now reply.

From some hidden cause it is far easier for a man to begin in this country on a rented puesto, or even with a whole league of land, than on a small freehold farm of his own, of sufficient acreage to pasture a flock of sheep, and yet leave him room to sow his own crop. Heaven knows we have written enough on this great River Plate peculiarity, and when a year or so ago we made a trip to the camp to recruit our health, finding, under the pressure of affairs, the knife cutting the sheath, we wrote on this subject and called attention to the desolation of those sheep puestos, around which the sole evidence of industry was the inevitable 'chaquera,' a chorus of answers came in on us, telling us that to mind a flock of sheep properly necessitated the whole time and attention of the puestero, and that the less cultivation about a puesto proved the greater attention of the puestero to his flock. All these replies have in nothing altered our views on this most important subject, and did every puestero in the camp supply wheat, maize and vegetables sufficient even for the puestero's family, the wealth of this country would be increased ten fold.

But to reply to our correspondent and his interesting questions, we have to say that a farm sufficient to feed a flock of sheep, a few milch cows and horses, and leave acreage enough for him to have a good crop of whnat and maize should, to our mind, be at least 250 squares, or say one thousand acres, although to begin in a very small way about half that is sufficient. The finest and best land for such a class of farming, freed from locusts and drought, is on the banks of the Rio Negro. Mr. Kincaid. who has lived down there for the last fifteen years, tells us that all the land facing the river is the most fertile in this Republic, and Mr. Jones, chief of the Welsh colony, who left last week, is of the same opinion, and told us of some of the Chuput men who years ago started on the Rio Negro, and now are wealthy men: with the product of their wheat crops they bought sheep and cattle, and carry on farming now on their own lands on the most extensive scale. On either bank of this river, from the town of Patagones up to where Mr. Kincaid lives, there are small farms such as our correspondent asks about, and the average price of such a farm would be, to purchase it in fee, say $25,000 m/c payable in yearly instalments of say $5,000 m/c, with 6 per cent. interest.

Should our correspondent feel inclined to make a start down there, we recommend him to visit Mr. Kincaid, and at the present moment any of our countrymen who think proper to go there to start as farmers, can obtain from Colonel Alvaro Barros a farm of 20 squares gratis, and as many more squares as they wish to purchase at the Government price, General Roca having at last succeeded in getting a large area of land within seven leagues of the town of Viedma or Patagones, set apart for the formation of an English or Irish colony, and we shall be only too happy to help those of our countrymen who wish to avail themselves of the offer by taking them to the Minister and getting them a free passage down.

The chief drawback we find in Rio Negro farming is the great scarcity of sheep and cattle down there, and the very heavy expense of driving stock down from Bahia Blanca or Sauce Corto to the Rio Negro. But all this is a mere passing difficulty. Every day now cattle and sheep are crossing the Colorado, bound for the Rio Negro, and in a very few years all the splendid lands in the valley of the Rio Negro will be as thickly settled as those in the most favoured partidos of this province.

IRISH IMMIGRATION.

IMPORTANT LETTER.

Don Manuel R. Garcia, Argentine Minister in London, has addressed the following important letter on the above subject, to the President of the Republic.

London, July 3rd, 1881.

To the Most Excellent President of the Republic, General Julio A. Roca,

Esteemed General,

In reply to the question you put to me in your letter of June 7th, I beg to give you my views as to the best means of increasing our population, a subject of extreme importance for the Republic. Quality, not quantity, is what we require in immigrants, and, on this premise, we must select those whose passage out is to be paid by Government, and place them in a position to cultivate the land offered them. Persons of well-known character should alone be chosen as Commissioners to inquire into the antecedents of those who wish to emigrate from Ireland to the Republic. The priests of the emigrants' parishes, besides being the most competent to give them certificates of good conduct and industry, are the very best commissioners we could have, and I should like to see them accompany their flocks, if possible.

The passages should be so arranged as to render fraud impossible on the part of the agents or any others; and it is of still greater importance to see to the hygienic condition of the vessels carrying the emigrants, imposing heavy fines on those which carry more than the proper number, or provide bad food, or unclean berths, or carry passengers afflicted with any contagious disease. We have only to copy in all these respects the United States, where they have attained perfection in these matters.

I send you the Times of June 13th in which you can read the debate in Parliament on the Emigration clause in the Irish Land Bill. Y.E. will see by it what is thought in this country about emigration. In this Bill it is sought to assist the Irish to emigrate, but it will be difficult for those who do not go to British colonies to obtain this assistance.

Well, the Irish distrust assistance or anything else that comes from Government, and prefer to go to the United States: and, on the other hand, the Legislature does not consult the best interests of the country, as it might and ought, by helping this expatriation to countries like ours where the great majority is of Catholics and our national character more congenial to Irish immigrants who, while making their own fortunes would consume English manufactures and, besides, would not, like those who emigrate to the United States, become ardent supporters of Feniasm, Land Leagues, &c.

I heartily approve, General, the idea of counterbalancing the Latin element in our population with emigrants from the North of Europe. These emigrants have built up the prosperity of the Western States of the Union, and we should mix the races in order to correct the defects of our own in respect to popular government, habits of order, morality and reflexion, all of which we consider subordinate to wild passions, enthusiasm for art and a blind following of certain popular individuals—all of which is fatal to Liberty properly understood.

I advise you to read the articles in the Fortnightly Review on Ireland, Italy, and Bi-metallism.

I remain,

Y.E.'s faithful servant,

Manuel R. Garcia.

Buenos Aires, Aug. 29th.

My dear General and President.

The perusal of Dr Garcia's letter, which I now return to Y. E., has given me a double pleasure: first because I can see that it has impressed you favourably and secondly because I agree with every line of it. All we have to do is to watch vigilantly and see that the elements intended to promote immigration be not diverted to other purposes.

Dr Garcia says that quality not quantity is what we want above all, viz, scrupulously selected agriculturists: that those named to select them should be men of high character, paid for their services, and that in Ireland the priests, from their position and character, would be the best for such posts; that everything in the way of fraud with the passage money must be avoided, the sanitary state of the vessels attended to etc.

These are indispensable points: Many of them are laid down in the Immigration Act of 1876, and in the Landing Regulations which I myself drew up and which are now coming into play, in spite of private interests and red-tape, which have so often placed the too confiding population of this city in serious danger.

I will send Y. E. interesting details on all these points when Congress closes and you will have a spare moment to listen to your Commissary General of Immigration and

Faithful servant

Sam. Navarro

THE "NUEVA REVISTA."

The sixth number of this important magazine has been distributed: as usual it is replete with most interesting articles from pens like Alberdi's, Mitre's, and Quesada's. A memorandum of Dr Elizalde forms the first chapter: it touches on the Chilian Question and is a kind of epitome of the most prominent events in the long-debated subject. Dr Quesada also publishes a lengthy and studied article on the subject, bristling with documents and proofs and terminating in a post-scriptum which terms the present treaty under consideration as a dismemberment of the Republic. Mr Quesada, with the partial eye of the patriot, sees the rights of his country but forgets that patriotism should never blind a statesman, and that peace is the best policy in this interminable question. The approval of the present treaty means a saving to each country of fifty million dollars and fifty thousand men—more than all Patagonia is worth. As a most interesting document we reproduce the following note of the Argentine Minister of Foreign Affairs in the year 1875 to Mr Blest Gana, the Chilian Minister in Buenos Ayres: We would in vain search for a more eloquent proof of how estranged the feelings of both countries have been, and how the question of limits was dropped on matters of etiquette and jurisdiction in a piece of territory, which may be well termed a 'res nullins' in an individual sense:—

July 30th, 1875.

..... "The discussion of the Limits Question was opened in May, 1872, with the solemn promise from the Chilian Government not to meddle with Argentine jurisdiction on the Atlantic coast. .... Two months later the very same Government made a compromise not to advance beyond Punta Arenas and not to sell the guano on the islands adjacent to the colony, ... These promises have been violated since Chile, only in Punta Arenas in 1872, has advanced towards the eastern mouth of the Straits, despising her compromises and our protests. That treaty has been violated, since Chilian men-of-war assisted Mr Pertinal's expedition to Tierra del Fuego, and concessions of land have been made in a territory wherein Chile never set foot before the year 1872,

"Not satisfied with this innovation in the very beginning of the debate, nor at ease that the Argentine Government did not advance a single step since then, the Government of Your Excellency pretends to make us recede whilst it advances, to frustrate our jurisdiction on the Atlantic, after its solemn promise to respect same.

"Several aggressions have taken place on that coast: first on the Rio Gallegos, then on the Rio Santa Cruz. We were informed that these were mere (mere?) explorations, but certainly they bore another character when buildings were raised and people settled there.

The Government of Your Excellency has declared in fact that it will not occupy any point on the Patagonian coast, but adds that it will not tolerate any jurisdiction of the Argentine Republic, south of the Rio Santa Cruz.....The Government of Your Excellency wants us to abandon the territory it disputes without titles and in a language more allied to threatening demeanor than to that used by representatives of nations: your Government states that it will not allow that the Argentine laws be carried out in that part of Argentine territory.

"Monsieur le Ministre, Argentines are not accustomed, nor will they ever be accustomed, to see their Government implore from a foreign power the consent to carry out their own laws, and certainly we did not expect from Chile, the independence of which we so much respected, a slight to the respect due us.

"Already before Your Excellency has taxed our moderation in a communication which could find no shelf in the archives of this department, and pretended to exercise an intervention incomprehensible and incompatible with the attributes of a foreign Minister, informing us that you would withdraw from this city should a certain citizen, elected by the Government, till the post of one of the ministerial departments.

"But moderation has its bounds, and to-day, obedient to the orders that I have received from the President of the Republic, I dismiss the protest of Your Excellency as groundless in argument and hostile in tenor, and I declare to Y E. that my Government is resolved to carry out the laws of the National Congress in every part of Argentine territory."

The above communication will give a fair idea of the diplomatic abilities of Sr. Blest Gana when he raised such a tempest by his hostile demeanor and unparliamentary language to the Government of Dr. Avellaneda.

The Revista has also a lengthy article from the pen of General Mitre, treating on several historical questions and difficulties raised by Lopez in reference to his work on the life of Belgrano. Mr. S V Guzman, who is already well-known by the many pamphlets he has published in Buenos Ayres, has a literary article on Bolivian poets, giving an insight at the same time into the customs, legends and traditions of the sons of Chuquisaca. Civil war, as the writer says, has paralysed the energy of the country, and we hope for a speedy political regeneration of that magnificent but still so unfortunate country.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

Santa Rosa looked back and dropped a few tears yesterday, but, nothing to speak of, although estancieros were hoping she would indulge in another 'good cry.' Towards dinner hour there were sings of a 'burster.'

The best news in town yesterday was that the Parque terminus is at ong last to be suppressed, and the Western Railway trains will in a near future finish and begin their journeys at Plaza Once. This will be most grateful news for life insurance companies, although undertakers will be choptallen. We must warmly congratulate Minister Uriburu on taking this matter up, and we hope the Western Railway Board will 'look alive' about it, lest there be more accidents to deplore.

The Grau French Opera Company debuted at the Colon Theatre on Wednesday night to a crowded and enthusiastic house. Fame has not praised this Company a whit too highly. Madlle Paola Marié is an artist of the first water, both as a singer and an actress, her impersonation of the part of Mignon being something very near perfection. The other characters were also excellently represented.

The residents of the Plaza Parque got a 'susto soberano' on Wednesday and thought for a moment that mother Shipton was right after all. About 11 o'clock 50 field-gun cartridges accidentally exploded with a roar that outrivalled the battles of Plevna and Prague put together. There was much alarm for a short time, but when it became known that only one man had been slightly injured in the left ribs, things settled down. It might be as well to remove the Parque Depot as well as the Parque terminus to some extramural position.

We received a polite note yesterday from the National Chamber of Deputies warning us not to publish anything whatever about the secret sittings which the House is now holding, otherwise it will be considered and treated as a breach of privilege. No paper in or out of town knows better how to keep a secret than the Standard: besides we have no wish to be summoned to the bar of the Chamber.

The return of the British Hospital for August shows 36 patients on the 1st, 29 received, 30 discharged, no death, and 35 in the house yesterday.

A grand concert is being prepared, to be given in the Coliseum about the middle of this month, for the benefit of the German Schools. German concerts are always A 1 at the musical Lloyd's or anywhere else, and we anticipate a genuine treat, as Mrs. de Voss and Miss Diehl have volunteered for the occasion; Mr Carius will direct, and the chorus will include no fewer than 80 gentlemen. The programme is classically splendid.

The latest about the Dorrego affair is that the Knights of the Night are not the members of a formidable conspiracy but simply an isolated gang. So we thought. The public have had quite enough about the Knights, who are a clumsy pack of duffers, and have no pretensions to the celebrity some of our colleagues seem bent on bestowing on them.

There is nothing very fresh from Montevideo. Cattle and horses are being sent across the river from Paysandu, to keep them out of the way of the 'patriots' on both sides when the shindy begins in earnest. Another sign of lively times is that the sacking of newpaper offices has commenced in the rural districts. In Melo La Voz got such a mauling that it wont be able to sing again for many a day.

The Rev. James Smith will preach on Monday next, at 11 o'clock, at the Livingstone estancia in the district of Lobos.

The Custom House of Rio Grande made a horribly bad 'spec' last week in a lot of Montevidean Lottery tickets, which it seized and sold at public auction, pocketing the proceeds. The Lottery managers now announce that they will not pay prizes won by any of the said tickets, and the buyers of them are down on the Custom House for their cash. The idea of selling Lottery tickets by auction, and for account of a Custom House, is very rich.

The immigrant arrivals are a little brighter this week—636 in all, by the Congo, Sud America and Hamburg. Still this is not old times.

They are now growing superb olives in Santiago del Estero. What about the claret to take with them?

Our colleague El Industrial keeps pounding away on the old theme that we are fast approaching another commercial crisis, owing to the excessive importation going on, which will have to be paid for to a large extent in gold, owing to the very low price in Europe for our principal export, wool.

The Revd. James W Fleming will preach at the Chapel of Ease, Flores, on Sunday next, at 3,30 p.m.

The National Government has made a contract with the surveyors Messrs E Encina and E Moreno to survey 5030 leagues at Nahuel Huapi, between the Limay and Neuquen.

Dr Tanner, the forty days fast man, has just died in Amsterdam. He went there to fight a duel with a party who had denounced him and his fast as a swindle on the public, but when coming down his hotel stairs to go to the place of hostile meeting, he fell from the top to the bottom and dashed his brains out.

There is a good deal of interest, getting up amongst the general public about the Lujan races on Thursday dext. Betting is going on in the most spirited manuer, and the ladies are wagering gloves right and left. One thing is certain, the meeting will be largely attended. W.W.P.

The Bradshaw of the Plate 'Kidd's Guia,' was given round yesterday. It has the usual information and extra time-tables, with the changes to take place this month on the Western and Southern lines. Mr. Kidd tells us that he has had the directory revised and made much larger. It will, doubtless, meet with acceptance.

Mr. Calzetta's Calypso Island, although it does not boast a perpetual spring and an immortal goddess, is already attracting the pleasure-seekers of Buenos Aires who, worn out by their weekly turmoil, gladly seek oblivion and amusement, far away from the narrow and dirty streets of the capital. The isle shines with golden light, such is the abundance of oranges, limes and lemons, and no more enchanting spot could be dreamed of even in the heated imagination of an amateur artist, who views Nature in its brightest, and daily-bread life in its darkest, colours. As the summer approaches the familiar dip in the Lujan, the merry breakfast under the willows, and the gentle inspirations of Leoville, will form an agreeable counterpart to the more serious and arduous occupations of the week, whilst the row in the boat, Calzetta's comfortable table, welcome and friendly surroundings, will be ample revival to those exhausted with the brain-racking work by midnight oil, or burdened with black-board Bolsa quotations and imminent peril of the grip of bulls and bears.

The news from Tucuman is that they have got 30,000 empty North American sugar barrels up there in readiness for the coming crop, so as to export it in proper condition. In Santiago del Estero they are all 'off their heads' about sugar, and are sowing cane right, left and centre. Lands suitable for the crop are rising in price like rockets, forty Bolivianos per square being paid where five could not formerly be had. Santiago is going ahead.

The delay in submitting the Boundary Treaty to the Chilian Congress arises from the anxiety of President Pintos's friends that he should sign it before he leaves office being met by herculean efforts by Mr. Santa Maria's, to ensure that it shall be left as the first thing for him to sign when he gets into office.

The 70,000 ounces nowhere! We see by our exchanges from Philadelphia that an expedition has left that place to fish for nine millions pats. on the Banda Oriental coast. The expedition consists of Captain Jones and the crew of the steamship Fortuna. The Captain is said never to have yet failed in raising a wreck, and he knows every wreck on the South American coast. The most valuable of these is a Spanish man-of-war sunk near the mouth of the Plate in 1800, bound home with 9,000,000 pats in gold. Capt. Jones and his crew, six months ago, located the wreck and put buoys around it to mark the place, and, having made arrangements with the Uruguayan Government towards the protection of the wreck during their absence, sailed for North America to prepare for the work of recovering the money. The crew altogether number 15 men, every one of them experienced divers. The Captain himself, the steward says, is 'the boss diver.' The steward also is a good diver. Divers' suits form a considerable item among the list of articles stowed away in the vessel's bunkers. How long they will be engaged in their work of attempting to recover the treasure is not known, but the crew has been engaged for two years.

A colleague announces the formation in this city of a Society for the promotion of marriage and 'the alleviation of the evils it leads to! The latter object is certainly not of the most encouraging kind for the success of the first; in fact, the programme of this queer association can only be understood by keen metaphysicians.

ON 'CHANGE.

Sept. 1st, 1881

Patacons	25.45
Cedulas A	99½
National Bank Shares..	nil.

The gold market opened this morning weaker than even it closed last night, and the cause of this weakness is attributed to the private banks discounting in gold, and doing nothing in paper. Gold therefore comes from the banks for regular business purposes, is at once sold on 'Change, and hence the deoility. It was even said that the Provincial Bank is now determined to discount in gold, which of course has caused a complete change round in the market. The rise in the Bank of England rate of last week, as will be seen from the extract of the Times of 5th Aug., is due to the gold withdrawn for Italy and the R. Plate, and they seem to be aware in London that the Provincial Bank of B. Aires will continue during the year to withdraw gold from London. However, some people in London understand so very little of our monetary affairs that a telegram sent from here to the London papers, when the Consolidation Law was passed by the Chambers, was not published, as the letters at hand say it was utterly unintelligible.

Gold opened at 25.50, and closed cash at 25.45; more gold was offered than sold cash and subsequently sold for 15th, cash sales 91,400. For end of month 345,000, opening at 25.45, dropping to 25.40, and closing at 25.45. Total sales 306,400.

Cedulas showed reaction to-day, opening cash at 98¾, and closing at 99½ buyers; 17,400 sold. For end of month 99⅝, and for October 99, all buyers. The Government measure respecting the bank is now the talk of the Bolsa; it will be out to-morrow, and the Government holds majority in both Chambers to pass it. It will completely reorganize the bank, increase its capital and put matters on a proper footing.

In National Bank Shares, NOT A SINGLE SHARE SOLD, or marked on the board. We heard of a quiet cash sale at 120, but nothing else. The syndicate has held a conference, and as yet it is not decided whether to throw 30,000 shares on the market and cause a 20 per cent break, or to continue buying and put the stock to 150. In a few days speculators will better see their way, as to-day all was fuss and feathers about the liquidation, and not a dollar paid out up to 4 o'clock.

After an absence of some days our special finance reporter, who last month kept us so well posted up on all that is going on in high circles, has returned, and to-day comes again to the front with the following, highly important news:—

1—The chief object of Dr Jorge's mission to Europe is to arrange for the expropriation of the B. Ayres Gt. Southern Railway. As regards the Consolidation Provincial Loan, all has been arranged here, and he has only to sign the bonds.

2—In these days Minister Uriburu will send to the Legislature his project respecting the Mortgage Bank and Cedulas, which will probably have a most favorable influence on Cedulas. One of the articles limits the issue of 8 per cent Cedulas, and the measure counts on a majority in both Chambers.

3—The speculation in National Bank shares is much stronger and greater than supposed. This month Congress will pass the law of coins &c., which favours the bank, and in these days the judicature law will be promulgated, which will remove all judicial deposits to the National Bank, some 4 millions fuertes.

4—The Nat. Bank discounted yesterday 5½ millions currency, and to-morrow will probably do 3 or 4 millions.

5—It is probable that this month will close all fluctuations in gold, as both Prov. Government and Prov. Bank are agreed not to allow gold to pass 25.50 and from to-day the Bank counts on fresh elements, arising from the arrangement with the house of Messrs. Baring.

6—It is decided in Prov. Government circles to reduce the number of Directors on Prov. Bank Board, and next month a message will be sent to the Legislature for this purpose. From next year the Board will consist of only 6 Directors, and in any special case the board will consult with Prov Government.

A number of old friends were warmly welcomed on Change to-day; Mr Lix Klett, the well known artista, Mr Rostan, and Mr Biekert, who have all returned fresh from Europe in Congo.

The sales at the ring were—
For cash 91,400 25.50-45
For Sept. 3rd 10,000 25.50-45
For Sept. 15th 60,000 25.45
For Sept. 30th 345,000 25.45-40-45
Sales, 306,400.
Cedulas—
For cash A 17,400 98¾ ⅞-99-½
For Sept. 30th A 10,000 99⅜
For Oct. 31st A 10,000 99
Sales, 37,400.

The R.M.S. Tamar is due in Montevideo on Sunday.

Within the last few days the arrivals at this port amount to about one thousand fresh hands; this is always something; but our immigration returns show a great falling off; formerly a single steamer brought 1,000 immigrants.

The Olavarria Colonization Committee has opened offices in the house opposite Provincial Bank, room No. 10, Mr John Dillon, chairman; this is the best news of the day. Mr Dillon in charge of the Olavarria colony is a guarantee for its success, and we hope to see him push ahead a few more colonies for this Province. We compliment Governor Rocha on the judiciousness of this appointment.

Cedulas at afterhours ruled buyers all round at 99⅜ for end of month, few sellers. We heard of only one lot sold of 20,000; many holders refuse to sell at par.

The Nat. Government paid yesterday to the Nat. Bank 350,000 pats gold bal. due by the Government to the Nat. Bank.

We hold for to-morrow an interesting printed circular, which has come out from London, respecting the starting of a new Argentine Land Company, capital £75,000, to purchase a property in the west, of say 54 sq. leagues. We hold for our next all the particulars of this most imported scheme.

The fine steamer Earl of Lonsdale is loading for Genoa. Mr Green reports already half her cargo engaged, dry hides and maize.

The Bolsa liquidator received this afternoon a letter from the broker who failed yesterday, inviting him to attend a meeting to-night to arrange, if possible, everything; they say on Change he will pay up.

Exchange really nothing doing; the Prov. Bank rules the market completely.

Late telegram from New York will be found in another column; we hear the cable is working well; telegrams from London seem to be few and far between. We hear that last news from there gave Hard Dollars 88, and Treasury bills 123.

We congratulate Mr Becar on the great improvement in putting the telegram boards in the body of the hall, and not away off in a corner with the map of Sen Blas Bay.

The new exhibition building works begin to-morrow.

After a dull pause in National Bank Shares all the day, at about 4 o'clock there was a start, and the stock opened ex dividend for end of month at 123, some 600 shares sold. Then followed a very rapid business in closing up all transactions for Sept. 30 at 123. Every one seemed to be 'casaring' or liquidating, as the outstandings for the 30th Sept. were simply tremendous and far too heavy for the Bolsa.

Immense comment was made about our remarks on taking some steps to stop the present speculation on time in Bank shares. We are informed, on the highest authority, that in London Bank shares can only be sold on time, when the seller gives the numbers of the shares—a safe, good rule, which might well be adopted by the Bolsa Syndicate here also.

They say at the Once that this week the trains will stop short at the Once, never to go again to the Parque.

The Bank share syndicate of speculators on Tuesday held a jovial champagne lunch; toasts for bank and dividend given. People who went to the Bank this morning, to collect their dividend were astonished to see by the people presenting the stock, how widely the shares are held by parties who never entered the Bolsa.

The report of the meeting of the Central Argentine Railway has come out by the mail. We hold it for our next.

The sale of 10,000 dry hides in Montevideo, deliverable in October, at 76 rls., is reported; also 6000 to end September at 77, and 3000 arrs. wool sold there at 3.45.

Our Boca correspondent gives the following—

"The Amer. barque Auburndale, Captain King, entered this morning with cargo of lumber for the firm of Messrs Thos. Drysdale & Co. She is now alongside the wharf.

"The Nova Scotian barque Vibilia, Captain Marsh, is on her way to Barracas.

"The Norw. barques Nordcap and Oskel Cristian have left our port.

"I am sorry to have to complain again of the passenger accommodation on the Boca Railway. On Tuesday (feastday) the car No. 4 was in such a beastly dripping state that it was impossible for any of the passengers to sit down. The few passengers by the 3.50 p.m. train were in a constant state of soak. These things ought to be looked to."

The following sales reported at the Plaza Once this morning:—
3,129 ar. of wool arrived.
420 fan. of maize and 185 fan. of wheat entered.
Produce market firm.
The sales were—
No wool sales.
300 doz. sheepskins at 23, 24 rls.
Deseches at 17 rls.
293 cow hides at 170, 168, 165
Becerros at 160
45 potro hides at 33, 34
Potrancas at 17, 16
32 ar. hair at 140, 135
Tallow, 10 pipes at 41
Wheat, 60 fan., Costa, at 190
Wheat, 300 fan., Salado, at 170
Maize, 485 fan. yellow, in grain, at 50, 53

The market opened this morning still under much of yesterday's liquidation pressure, and a large portion of yesterday's business stood for to-day. The first news on 'Change was that the broker who failed yesterday would arrange and pay everything, but this seems difficult to credit, since the differences sum up to three millions currency. They say on 'Change that the total differences to be paid in the liquidation for the whole Bolsa operators of the month reached 1½ million fuertes, which is a large sum enough for this market.

We note in the London papers of 5th Aug. that Southern Railway Shares have still advanced and are at 173½, Public Works at par, Treasury Notes at 127, Hard Dollars at 92; all Argentine stocks hold their own abroad.

The Times, 5th Aug., gives the following:

"The value of money has risen to-day a little, from the causes referred to during the last two or three days, and on the issue of a Bank of England return showing a reduction in the reserve of one million and three-quarters. The rate to-day for the discount of 3 months' bank bills is 1½ o/o. There has been very little inquiry for loans, and the rate for these is about 1½ to 1¾ o/o. The little hardening in the value of money has turned the foreign exchanges somewhat in our favour, the close of the liquidation on the Paris Bourse having also some effect as far as the Paris exchange is concerned. All bills were slightly more offered, with the exception of Russian. The French exchange has recovered to 25f. 20c.

"The reduction of the reserve shown in the Bank return is in part only temporary, being due to the usual expansion of the circulation at the turn of the month; but allowing for the fact that gold withdrawals for export still continue, the circumstance of the reserve being now only a little over £13 millions is most material to all who are interested in the money market. The margin against contingencies is now very small indeed, and if the general state of the foreign exchanges remains what it is the tendency must be for money to rise in value. The gold withdrawn to-day, as referred to below, was for the River Plate, and a further sum, it is expected, will be taken shortly for the same destination, while the demands for Italy still continue on the market. There seems to be no cause for apprehending really dear money, unless the New York money market should become stringent, but there is a distinct upward tendency which must be carefully watched. Among other changes in the Bank return, in addition to the reduction in the reserve, we notice an increase of £266,000 in the private securities.

"The stock markets generally have shown some weakness to-day in consequence of the apprehensions of dearer money and the great reduction of the Bank reserve. English Government securities have fully shared in the dulness. At the last there was a fall of ¼ for the day, Consols for money being quoted at 100⅝ to 100¾.

"The foreign markets have been deserted and stagnant to-day, and there has been a distinct reaction from the rise established a few days ago. With the exception of Mexican, almost the only stock showing a rise at the close was Argentine, the 1871 Bonds being ¼ better.

"The sum of £100,000 in sovereigns was taken from the Bank to-day for the R. Plate. The Venetia has left Melbourne for Galle with 30,000 sovereigns.

"The silver market has been very quiet and prices keep steady. The consignment of about £13,000 of bars from Chili for Magellan was sold at 51½d, and a few Mexican dollars changed hands at 50⅝d per oz."

The mails from the U. States bring the following about the wool market:—

"The holiday intervening since our last report has naturally had an influence to check operations all around, and buyers and sellers still show more or less inclination to move a little slowly. As the week makes further progress, however, it is expected that the attendance of operators will rapidly increase, and a good, full and satisfactory business is calculated upon. The supplies of old wools are now much reduced and under close and confident control, with the limits in most cases really higher than as yet established by actual transactions; while of new Western fleeces the arrivals are too small and irregular to permit of the fixing of any positive market value. The tendency, however, is naturally upward, and to cover the present expectations of many of the trade 45c. for XX Ohio may be named as a basis figure, though not as yet fully established here. Carpet wools are quiet, but in all cases held steadily, and offered with indifference. Advices from the country in all cases continue strong, and, with the exception of Ohio, most of the clips are said to be bought up.

"The following is from the circular of Coates Bros., Philadelphia:—The market has been but lightly supplied with wool so far. The clip has come forward rather more slowly than usual, and most of the early arrivals have met with prompt sale. Prices have been firm, and many holders confident of a further advance. In most of the wool-growing sections there has been much excitement, buyers eagerly competing with each other and bidding continually higher figures, until, in many cases, they have paid more than is justified by selling value in the eastern markets. Whether wool will go into consumption at higher values than are now ruling depends largely on the future market for manufactured goods. The prosperous condition of the country seems to warrant the opinion that we may expect a fair trade for goods; few manufacturers, however, are well enough convinced of this to buy supplies much ahead of wants. They prefer to wait for actual sales of their product rather than trust to logical reasons why their goods should sell, and they are accordingly now buying stock but moderately. Wool seems intrinsically cheap. We venture the opinion that it will be found a safe investment at present values."

DEAN DILLON'S MISSION.

The Parliamentary reports give the following debate on the Emigration clause in the Irish land bill. Many of the remarks of the speakers if they fail to instruct, will certainly amuse a portion of our readers—

"Mr O'Donnell agreed very much with the view taken by the right hon. gentleman as to the amendment proposed by the hon. member for Finsbury. At the same time, the Committee would not do well to allow itself to be carried away by admiration of the language used by the hon. member. He presented a dazzling picture of the contrast that would be presented by the poor populations in the west of Ireland when transplanted to the Arcadia of Manitoba. The hon. member for Finsbury had said that if Irishmen were assisted to emigrate they could obtain land in Canada for 1s. an acre, and that for 40s. they might purchase themselves a freehold farm on which they could live comfortably. Let him remind the hon. member, however, that the Irish peasant would have to pay something more than the 40s. for his farm—he would have to find 40s. plus his denationalization; he would have to pay 40s plus his banishment; he would have to pay 40s plus his exile from his native land, and he would have to pay 40s. plus his separation from all the ties and associations that were so dear to him. (Hear.) The hon. member had treated the love of an Irishman for his country as a mere political superstition. It was the same political superstition, however, that kept an Englishman from becoming a Frenchman, a Frenchman from becoming a German, and a Pole from becoming a Russian; and he hoped that it would always prevent an Irishman from becoming anything else than an Irishman or from separating his own prosperity from that of his country. The keynote of the speech of the hon. member for Belfast was that Ireland was underpopulated. If that were the case, and he quite concurred in that view, he failed to see why the British taxpayer should be compelled to pay to facilitate emigration from an under-populated country. For his own part, he said that Ireland as a whole was underpopulated, although in certain parts it was overcrowded, and that what was required in Ireland was not emigration, but the transplanting of the surplus population from the overcrowded districts to the sparsely-populated portions of the island. If the Government were anxious, as they appeared to be, to spend something between one million and 20 millions sterling upon benefiting the Irish people, let them expend the money in so transplanting 50,000 or 100,000 families from one part of Ireland to another. After they had tried that experiment, he should have no objection to their helping the remaining Irish families to emigrate. Another thing was that he did not think that Irish members should be parties to a scheme which would compel the emigration of the Irish race to British colonies, where nothing less than political disfranchisement and political degradation awaited them. What were the contemptible politics of Canada compared with the grand ones of this Imperial nation? Irishmen should never consent to surrender the power they now possessed of shaping the destinies of their race and of the world by going to the colonies which it had been the steady object of the Liberal party to discourage and to sever from the rest of the empire. In his opinion, if there were any exclusive region to which Irish Emigration should be directed it was the United States. English statesmen should remember that they had by their policy and by their mismanagement caused the diminution of the population of Ireland to such an extent that those who remained behind really formed the minority of the Irish race, the majority of whom had been transferred to the United States. It was a fact that Englishmen should lay well to heart that the Irish constituencies were being guided more and more by the opinion of that vast majority of the Irish race whom they had driven from their own country to America. The only result of carrying into effect this proposal to expend such enormous sums upon facilitating the transportation of the Irish people to Canada would be that the money would be spent in conveying so many Irish people so much nearer the United States. As a protest against the odious system of English misgovernment he should struggle against this clause line by line, and word by word, and do all he could to bring it into contempt. The Committee might pass the clause in words, but it was not in the power of the British Parliament to give effect to it. (Hear, hear.)

Mr W. H. Smith was rather surprised at the doctrine of his hon. and learned friend. He asked why these poor people should be sent out of the country at the expense of the taxpayers. These poor people had for years past been unable to earn their living. They were a source of weakness instead of strength, and required the Government to take extraordinary means for their relief which were not necessary in other parts of the country. The report of these Commissions made it clear that something must be done for the relief of that class by enlarging the sphere of their labour. That could be done either by migration or emigration. Any scheme of migration would be extremely difficult. It was said emigration would be carried out at the expense of the British taxpayer. He should decidedly object to any large advance of public money for that purpose; but as he read the clause security would be taken by the Government for the repayment of what ever was advanced. He was not a supporter of this Bill, but he regarded this clause as a redeeming feature in it. (Hear, hear.) He could conceive no provision better calculated to insure the welfare and prosperity of those who emigrated under it as well as those who remained behind. (Hear, hear.)

Mr Macdonald had hoped that this clause would not be pressed, but at all events he was not prepared to support it. The proposal was not only vicious, but immoral. Why should the Irish emigrate to Canada? They preferred emigrating to the United States. Twenty million pounds had come from the U. States to assist Irish emigration. He should like to know how much, if anything, had been sent from Canada for a similar purpose. During the last few years a large number of our people driven out of our agricultural and mining districts by low wages, had gone to Minnesota, to Ohio, to Illinois, and the great territories of the West; they were now employed mainly on the land; increasing transport facilities enabled them to send their produce here; and this competition would make our farming interest and our landed interest do something else than smile by-and-by. But these people had gone of their own free will, not at the dictation of our own Government, nor under the luring of Colonial Governments. He protested against this emigration clause because he was an enemy to a monopoly to be created in favour of the Canadian Government or of bogus railways and swindling concerns.

Mr Gorst said he did not in the least doubt the benevolent intentions of the Government in proposing this clause or that there were people in Ireland to whom emigration, carried out either by voluntary societies or by Government assistance would be a great boon. But what he failed to see, and what the speech of the Prime Minister failed to inform them of, was what was the benefit the people of the United Kingdom would receive from the deportation of a part of the people of Ireland. (Hear, hear.) Under the other clauses of the Bill, the money that might in the first instance come out of the pockets of the tax-payers of the United Kingdom might ultimately be recouped from Irish funds. But under this clause the payments to the emigration societies would come first and last out of the pockets of the taxpayers of the United Kingdom. ('No.') He would like to know from what other source they were to come? Emigration might be for the advantage of the Irish peasants, it might also be for the advantage of the colonies to which they went. The hon. member for Exeter said that emigrants were worth £100 a piece to Canada. If that were so, it might be justifiable for the colonies to pay for getting emigrants out. But a country was powerful in proportion to its orderly and law-abiding population, and if they could make the Irish peasants peaceable and orderly, and yet send them away, whether to Canada or the United States, the United Kingdom would thereby lose. Why, then, should they spend their taxes in weakening the United Kingdom? Those people were producers of food for this country, they were consumers of our manufactures; the United Kingdom would, therefore, be the poorer for sending them away.

Mr Parnell would support the suggestion of the hon. member for Waterford that the Government should have regard to the opinions of a majority of the Irish members, and withdraw the clause if a majority of them voted against it. He could not say what the result of a division might be, and it was possible that a majority might be in favour of it, and if the decision were against the wishes of the majority of the constituencies that would be the fault of the constituencies, and not of the House or of the Government. He regretted exceedingly that the discussion of the clause had been taken that day. The question of emigration was knit into every line of Irish history. It was connected with many unfortunate and horrible occurrences of which Englishmen might well feel ashamed. The emigration returns showed how the life-blood of the country had been slowly ebbing away. Since 1841 the population had been diminished by three millions, representing a much larger number when allowance was made for natural increase. Every class in Ireland was interested in this question. In the words of Archbishop Manning, there was in Ireland work for every Irish man and woman to do; there was land enough in Ireland for each individual inhabitant. What was wanted was on the part of its rulers a practical acquaintance with the necessities and the possibilities which existed in Ireland, which could be acquired only by those who lived there, to enable the people to have that healthy abundance of work which would result in changing the face of the country in many districts.
